

Position – Hardware Engineer

Company Description

Roboteam is an established defense robotics company with a proven track record of creating impactful and innovative robotic technologies that saves lives on the battlefield. We have a fun start-up feel but with a meaningful mission related to national security and defense worldwide.

Roboteam's hardware group is responsible for innovative hardware, the brain and heart of our products portfolio.

We are looking for a Hardware System Engineer to join our R&D team with a passion to create engaging and high-quality products. If you are a technologist with strong analytical skills and passion to hardware. We want you with us.

Key Responsibilities

- Collaborate with multi-disciplinary engineering teams, and work with vendors and contractors.
- Integration of hardware and robotic products.
- Diagnose & Investigate electrical failures.
- Part of the R&D team with designing, improving and supporting of robotic systems.
- Support customers remotely and on field all over the world.
- Writing reports and documentation.

Desired Skills

- B.Sc. in Electrical Engineering.
- 1-3 years of experience with multi-disciplinary systems.
- Knowledge in reading electrical schematic.
- System view.
- Experience with military standards systems - Advantage
- Experience with UGV systems – Advantage
- Excellent English verbal / writing / reading skills.
- Ability to work under pressure and extra hours.
- Job may require flights abroad from time to time.

Our Office location: Aharon Bart Street 22, Petah Tikva

Send your CVs to: Info@robo-team.com

www.roboteam.com

Proprietary Information - Commercially Classified

www.roboteam.com